No Cold Child Campaign

No child should know what it feels like to go to school feeling cold. According to Parentkind research, up to 144,000 children in the UK will go without a warm coat this winter. This figure could rise to as many as 150,000 children by 2025.

Parentkind and FatFace have partnered together to deliver a difference this winter and get coats to children in need. Shipping September to December 2024, we aim to deliver 10,000 winter coats to children in every corner of the UK.

The No Cold Child offers brand new children's coats for £10. FatFace coats are new and have an RRP of £60. FatFace are covering £50 of the cost of this coat as part of this generous community campaign. Parentkind are fundraising against the remaining balance of costs, where possible, to impact the hardest to reach.

We are pleased to inform you that King's Academy College Park will be taking part in this initiative, and you will be eligible for this if your child is in receipt of free school meals.

If your child is eligible, and you would like the option to purchase a coat at this reduced price, please complete the following Google form with your child's details, and your choice of coat and size below.
