

Message from Mrs Carlyle

I hope you all had a wonderful weekend!

Thank you to all of the parents we have already spoken to regarding their child's attendance, although it can be a tricky subject to talk about, it is incredibly important that we are able to have these discussions and work together to improve attendance at KACP. We still have lots of phone calls to get through!

We have our final EYFS open event this Wednesday at 1.30pm for anyone who would like one final visit before we begin transition work in the summer term. If you are attending please come to the infant gates on Crofton Road where a member of the leadership team will let you in. We will be having a short presentation in the infant school hall before a final walk around of the school.

Good luck to our Year 6 pupils this week who are completing a set of mock SATs, I know it can be stressful, but it is important to remember that these assessments do not define a child, and their purpose is to guide us in closing gaps to ensure the best education for our pupils.

Have a fantastic week,

Mrs Carlyle

This week's assembly theme is...

School Behaviour

We are revisiting our school behaviour curriculum this week in assembly! The school behaviour curriculum sets out 'how we do things here'.

Pupils are expected to:

Kindness: Be respectful and kind to others through their actions and words.

Responsibility: Conduct themselves in a sensible manner when moving around the school and treat resources with respect.

Independence: Come to school prepared and ready to learn.

Teamwork: Create an environment that makes it possible for everyone to be successful.

Resilience: Accept when things do not go their way and respond appropriately.

Creativity: Maintain a high behaviour standard in new and different situations.

Challenge: Contribute to lessons and try their best at all times.
