

Our oceans need your help!!

Look at our oceans once beautiful and blue,

But now there is terrible plastic in front of you,

You could have once watched the fish swim happily,

But now the plastic is filling our oceans rapidly.

You could have watched the harbour seals having fun,

But now they are getting hurt by our doings, how can this be undone?

You could have watched the dolphins now and then doing a flip or a trick,

But now because of pollution they are becoming sick.

You could have watched the whales hitting the water with their tail,

But if we don't act now, trying to preserve our oceans could be a fail.

There must be a way to beat this terrible pollution,

Together we can find a solution.
